

How Enterprise Messaging Improves Team Communication and Collaboration

One of the most important benefits of Teamwire is better team communication and collaboration. Our enterprise messaging app helps businesses to significantly improve the internal communication and increase the productivity of teams. Businesses and their teams benefit from our enterprise messaging app in the following ways:

1. Real-Time Group Messaging to Quickly Solve Topics

Teams constantly have to solve time-critical issues. Teamwire offers teams group chats that serve as an instant communication channel to address and directly solve time-critical topics. Teams can discuss important things in real-time and jointly make an informed decision on a topic no matter where team members are.

2. Direct Channel to Instantly Reach Colleagues

Teams often need immediate feedback from colleagues. Unlike email, unified communications or enterprise social networks, Teamwire provides a fast communication channel to colleagues. All messages are delivered with push notifications in real-time. Our enterprise messaging app makes sure that colleagues receive time-critical messages.

3. Group Chats as Permanent Communication Channels for Projects and Topics

Teams require direct, simple and permanent communication channels for their team members. The group chats of our enterprise messaging app enable teams to set up powerful communication channels for all relevant projects, topics, tasks and units. Teamwire allows to easily exchange, access and store all relevant team information.

4. Digital Content and Media Sharing for Better Information Exchange

Teamwire features sharing of photos, videos, voice messages, locations, links, calendar dates and files. This helps teams to accelerate and enhance the information exchange, to improve the coordination and organization, to easily capture and share ideas, and to quickly transfer knowledge and know-how.

5. Perfect Communication Tool to Share News

Our enterprise messaging app is perfect to share news with whole teams or selected recipients. No matter if you want to share important news or if you simply want to get everybody on the same page with an update, Teamwire offers a personal and direct information channel.

6. Less Time Spent in Unnecessary Meetings

When using our enterprise messaging app, teams often address, drive and directly solve topics within the group chats of Teamwire. This significantly reduces the need for meetings in person. Actually the group chats of Teamwire enable employees to kind of take part in several meetings in parallel. Employees can skip unneeded meetings, can get work done and are able to focus on the important topics.

7. Fast Processes and Workflows Lead to Increased Productivity

Teamwire's real-time messaging helps to simplify workflows, accelerate processes, engage employees and boost the team collaboration. Our enterprise messaging app makes it easy to follow internal news, access important information, and to drive work forward. As a consequence the communication time is reduced, decisions are made faster and the overall team productivity is improved.

8. Less Email Overload

Teamwire is a dedicated enterprise messaging app for the internal communication of a business. This can decrease internal email by up to 80%. Since there are less emails to process, the lower email volume leads to faster external communication and better response times to customers and partners.

9. Enabling Team Communication Independent of Place of Work

Teamwire's enterprise messaging app is available for all mobile, tablet and desktop platforms. Chats are persistent and get immediately synced between devices. Team members can switch between devices anytime and easily continue the team communication. Teamwire ensures close collaboration and connects team members whatever they do and wherever they are - in the office, at customer's site, travelling or elsewhere on the go.

10. Higher Team and Employee Satisfaction

Not only younger employees clearly prefer text messages over email and voicemail. Actually a larger part of the workforce never listens to their voicemails and only skims emails. Teamwire's ease of use, compelling feature set and casual-style group chats engage team members and increase the satisfaction of the team overall.
